Old Head Golf Links, the setting of wedding day dreams.

Last Friday Old Head played host to a wedding day celebration. Old Head's General Manager, John Dwyer, and Ursula Roncken, married in a church ceremony in the local picturesque town of Kinsale. The Reception was held at the de Courcey Restaurant and exclusive new Function Area at Old Head.

Some two hundred and thirty guests dined at Old Head for a sumptuous meal. The 5 Star Restaurant at Old Head provided spectacular culinary delights on the day bearing testament to the skills of the Old Head in house chefs. The wedding guests enjoyed the private and alluring ambience of the de Courcey Restaurant and Function area overlooking the 18th green, historical lighthouse with breathtaking views of the Atlantic Ocean.

Close family members of the couple had the pleasure of staying overnight at Old Head in the luxurious new Suites. The fifteen new Suites, Old Head Spa and the Championship Golf Course will officially open on April 25th.

Old Head provided a relaxed convivial atmosphere for a chic, stylish and elegant occasion. The bride was enchanting, the food was sensational and the setting was idyllic. Old Head is proud to have held such a memorable and unique occasion on site.
